

Headteacher's Update

10th February 2023

Message from Mr O'Sullivan

A huge well done to the excellent attitude of all the students completing mocks this week. It has been noticeable how many students are reading revision cards as they are coming in each morning. I have been incredibly impressed by the conversations I've been overhearing in the lunch queue. Students are desperate to do well which is lovely to see. If any parents have time to spare to get added to our pool of exam invigilators, it would be greatly appreciated as we are in need of additional support. It's a straightforward role with good organisation and a swan-like presence the only real requirements. Reach out in the normal way if you are interested.

Our thoughts go out to Turkey and Syria, and our Turing families that have loved ones and connections there. The massive natural disaster is currently recording a death toll of 21,000 which is a number that is hard to fathom. I am aware of students in the school and staff that are busy looking into ways in which we can support the victims of this disaster. In the short term, if you are able to and wish to contribute to the relief effort, please donate here:

Literacy Fact

Over the forthcoming weeks, we will be including a 'Literacy Fact' for the week as part of an 'Improve Student Literacy' drive. We would be very grateful if you could discuss our inclusions at home and help us to ensure that students consider why they are using certain elements of literacy.

Fact 1 Colons:

Colons are used for lists and explanations.

Lists – The colon is used to let you know that a list is about to begin. You will need the following ingredients: a large egg, 200 grams of flour, 250ml of milk.

Explanations – Colons are used to divide a sentence where the second part of the sentence explains the first

Dates for your diary:

29th/30th March - We Will Rock You school show

part, or tells you more about it. The office was empty: everyone had finished their work and gone home.

Keeping hydrated in school

We are seeing an increasing number of students coming to the school medical room complaining of headaches, especially from late morning onwards. In many cases these headaches could be prevented as students have come to school without a water bottle and have not drunk sufficient water.

Please would parents/carers ensure that students come to school with a water bottle (ideally refillable) so that they are adequately hydrated throughout the day.

Year 8 Tapas night

On Tuesday and Wednesday this week, some Year 8 students enjoyed a selection of tapas at Bar Estilo, Teddington. They spoke about their favourite dishes in Spanish and revised the adjectives to describe the different dishes. Students enjoyed experiencing new flavours and some even tried foods they had never eaten before! The chocolate with churros at the end were a unanimous favourite. Bar Estilo saved the best until last.

Jack Petchy

Congratulations to our brilliant Y10 speakers who performed their Jack Petchey speeches to the class so we could whittle down the short list. Henry, Lucas, Ramprakash, Meg, Landen and Yusuf talked about topics from climate change to education, from religious minorities to social inequality as well as life lessons from rugby. Landen and Meg will now represent the school in March. Good luck!

World War One Poetry

As part of our study of 'Remembrance' by Theresa Breslin, students in 7C1 looked at a variety of poems inspired by WWI that disillusioned the glorification of war.

Ilyas S and Sofia B felt inspired and wrote their own poem:

In Flanders fields, the poppies blow. Everything is wrong, everything is slow. The mothers say 'I told you so.' In Flanders fields, the sun didn't glow.

In Flanders fields, the soldiers die. Each poppy represents each 'goodbye'. The younger chaps that would lie still and motionless beneath the sky.

The bishops exclaim 'your son will come back.'
As they launch their final attack.
But as their bags are ready and packed,
Another body is added to the stack

At the church, families mourn.
Remembering their soldiers being born.
Until they reach their final dawn.
In Flanders Fields.

Year 8 Blood Brothers

Y8B/En1 have been demonstrating their drama skills in English with Ms Lewis, reading 'Blood Brothers' with beautiful expression. 'Blood Brothers' is a musical by Willy Russell set in 1980s Liverpool. It's showing at Richmond Theatre in late February and we highly recommend the play.

Reception Library

As you will know from our recent letter home, we are hoping to set up a small library in our reception for parents and carers to use. We would like it to contain books which parents and carers would enjoy reading by themselves, but also books which they'd enjoy reading to or with their children. We hope this could be a brilliant resource for our school community, however we are relying on the generosity of donations from our parent and carer body in order to make this possible. We are hoping that some of you might be able to donate second-hand books which could be shared. We would really like the library to contain a wide range of books, so if there is a book which you enjoyed, whether it is fiction or non-fiction, I am sure it would be perfect!

If you do have any books which you'd be able to donate, please send them in, and ask your sons and daughters to bring them to Ms Riglin in room 1.24. Any support will be highly appreciated. Some inspiration/ideas of the sorts of books it would be great to have are below:

- Keep it visual
- Make a mind map, keep it colourful

Best of luck from Mr Johns and the DT and Art departments

Maths - Ms Nicholl

- Make sure to do Dr Frost practice
- Do past paper
- Attendance

Good luck!

We all wish the Year 11s best of luck and know that they will do very well!

Year 13 Mocks

Last week, in preparation for their mock exams, Year 13 Literature students enjoyed a prose workshop delivered by Dr Andrew Green from Brunel University. They focused on using contexts of the texts as a way to build connections. Students enjoyed their time refreshing their knowledge of the texts and seeing them in new ways.

Adam said 'it was a pleasure to work with someone with such vast experience and knowledge of literature today; it certainly helped me improve how I compare contextual factors in the prose texts.'

Archie said 'today provided a useful guide and insight into how one should attempt to look at the world around us through literature, and how literature has evolved through time, both in its creation and its reception.'

Year 13 Auschwitz trip

On Thursday last week, Mrs Lamb and four Year 13

students went on a day trip to Poland to Auschwitz Birkenau concentration and extermination camp. The trip was made as part of the Holocaust Education Trust's ground-breaking

'Lessons from Auschwitz' project which aims to increase knowledge and understanding of the Holocaust for young people. Prior to the visit, students engaged in an online orientation before making the visit to Poland for a one-day tour of authentic sites and museum exhibits. After visiting the local town, an engaging guide-educator gave a tour of the grounds of Auschwitz I. We were told about the history of the camp and the experience of the prisoners. Following, this Auschwitz

II-Birkenau visited. This was simultaneously one of the largest concentration camps for Jewish, Poles, Roma and other prisoners and also the location of the murder of 1 million European Jews.

Year 9/10/11 Girls Football v Twickenham

The Year 9-11 girls started their football league fixtures last week as they made the short trip across the road to take on Twickenham. They got off to a flying start as the girls looked to be on excellent form in all areas of the pitch, keeping their formation throughout the game and creating multiple chances up front. This resulted in the Turing team keeping a clean sheet while scoring several goals past the opposition. Their next match is against Richmond upon Thames after the half term break. Well done to all involved!

Year 7 Boys Football v Christ's

The Year 7 boys were treated to a friendly football match this week, taking on Christ's and playing away from home. The Turing team looked to be on form from the start, as they have been for most of the year so far. However, they were caught out by an accurate freekick from the home side in the second half, with the match finishing 2-1 at the final whistle. The boys still have one league game to play after the half term break. If they win that game, they would play in the league final against Christ's. A chance for redemption, perhaps. Well done to all involved!

Year 7 Boys Basketball v Twickenham

The Year 7 boys faced Twickenham on the basketball court this week. This was their last league fixture before the play-off game, where they play the team who finished in the same position on the other side of the league to determine the overall borough league winners. There was one quarter in the match where Twickenham looked to threaten the lead that the Turing team worked hard to establish from early on in the game. The boys managed to hold their own to the end, however - the man-to-man marking that the boys have been working on proved to aid their offensive game as the turnover rate was high. The match finished 27-20, giving the Y7s a chance to finish first in their side of the league depending on other school's results. Well done to all involved!

U14 Boys Basketball v Christ's

The combined Year 8 and 9 team travelled to Christ's School earlier in the week to take to the basketball court once again. There was a lot at stake as these two teams were the winners of their respective pools, so they were coming together to battle it out for the overall borough league title. Christ's took an early lead but the Turing team kept themselves in the race with some fast turn overs and accurate shooting of their own. By the end of the second quarter, the boys had taken the lead, only for Christ's to make a comeback in the third. The action-packed final quarter finished with a Christ's win, but THS narrowly lost 28-33 - a brilliant effort given that they were down by 14 points. Well done to all involved!

Singing Workshop: A German Requiem – Brahms Led by Andrew Griffiths with Accompanist Gavin Roberts

Join with Kingston Choral Society on Thursday 30 March... to sing choruses from Brahms' much loved choral masterpiece. This superbly tender work was inspired by the deaths of two people dear to Brahms - his mentor, Robert Schumann, and his mother.

Ein Deutches Requiem breaks with the traditional requiem format fearsome Dies Irae. Brahms is more concerned with consoling the living than dwelling on the terrors of death. It is this spiritual empathy that makes his "human Requiem", as he called it, so moving for us today.

Visitors can be sure of both a warm welcome and an inspirational musical experience. The workshop is led by Kingston Choral Society's music director, Andrew Griffiths with Gavin Roberts, our regular accompanist - both outstanding musicians with national and international reputations.

If you love this marvellous music, and would like to know it better, save the date. Thursday 30 March 2023 7.00-10.00pm. The venue is the main hall of The Hollyfield School, Surbiton KT6 4TU.

Tickets are on sale at £12 for visitors, £10 for members and Friends of KCS and £6 for students and under 18s at www.kingstonchoralsociety.org.uk

The ticket price includes music hire for those without scores and an interval drink and cake. The evening also features a cake stall and a raffle.

Managing Exam Anxiety - a course for parents | Courses | Communicate-ed

Half Term Hockey Camp

Managing Exam Anxiety

While it's natural for exams to be daunting, anxiety and stress around exams is a big issue for thousands of young people. 82% of headteachers reported in 2022 that exam stress and anxiety was higher than prepandemic.

Communicate-ed has produced two courses with training expert Lorraine Lee on Managing Exam Anxiety.

The content of these courses is very similar, but one is aimed at teachers, and the other at parents. Please find some information and links to both courses below.

During these sessions, Lorraine:

- Explains the roots of Anxiety
- Helps with distinguishing severe anxiety from healthy nervousness
- Describes signs and symptoms of Anxiety
- Offers tips to help create the right environment
- Considers relevant exam access arrangements
- Describes calming techniques
- Gives suggestions for managing thoughts and physical symptoms
